IN THE ABSTRACT

Please amend the abstract as follows:

A computer system creates and displays a map image based upon a value database associating a plurality of values each with a geographic location in a geographic area and a map program associating each location with a map image location. The computer system assigns one of a plurality of symbols to each geographic location based upon its associated value. The symbol is then displayed on the map image at the map image location associated with the geographic location.

~~N:\Clients\SOUTHEASTERN APPRAISAL\IP00005\Patent\APP cip -005.doc~~